TWENTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1917.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE,
OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS,
Washington, October 10, 1917.

SIR: In compliance with the provisions of section 61 of the general printing act approved January 12, 1895, I have the honor to submit the Twenty-third Annual Report of the Superintendent of Documents, being for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1917.

The business of the office continues to increase, which is evidenced by the following statements:

Letters received during the fiscal year 1916.....	304,341
Letters received during the fiscal year 1917.....	363,484
Increase of letters, 59,143, or 19½ per cent.
Cash sales during the fiscal year 1916.....	$185,712.01
Cash sales during the fiscal year 1917.....	233,675.04
Increase of $47,963.03, or 27 per cent.
Publications mailed during the fiscal year 1916.....	44,565,593
Publications mailed during the fiscal year 1917.....	44,968,338
Increase of 402,755.
Publications condemned during the fiscal year 1916.....	2,592,278
Publications condemned during the fiscal year 1917.....	587,548
Decrease of 2,004,730.

The following statement shows the great volume of work during the past fiscal year:

Letters handled.....	363,484=daily average of 1,161.
Cash receipts.....	$252,301.87=daily average of $806.07.
Publications distributed.....	45,565,886=daily average of 145,546.

The real import of the above summary will mean but little to the casual reader, but a study of the comparative statements in this report will show that in the past year there was an increase of 59,143 in letters received, or 19½ per cent, and that the cash receipts exceeded those of the previous year by $56,794.08, or 29 per cent.

In order to cope with this increase of work it has been necessary to work the force extra hours, and even then it has been impossible to accomplish satisfactorily all that should have been done.

The general work of the office for the first three months of the present fiscal year shows an increase of 2,975 in letters and $15,970.39 in cash sales over the corresponding months of the preceding fiscal year, and doubtless the work will continue to grow, presenting a difficult problem for solution, which might have been avoided by the allowance of additional clerks as recommended in our estimates for the past fiscal year.

We have already exhausted every means possible for reducing the work incident to the handling of the correspondence and orders for publications by a most careful study of all details of the office, and the introduction of new methods of curtailing and concentrating the work, which have aided very greatly in meeting demands, thereby obtaining the object sought, as follows:

1. Reduction in the number of letters to be filed.
2. Reduction in dictation, and the adoption of forms to be used in making replies.

3. Reduction in the work of recording sales by eliminating certain checkings, which has also served to reduce the preliminary work in the preparation of the itemized statement for the annual report.

It is needless for me to elaborate on the increase shown in the sale of Government publications, as this fact has become self-evident, and the subject has been covered in former annual reports.

There is no question that the sales method is the most equitable means of distribution, so long as the resources of the departments are inadequate to distribute publications free to all. The difficulty presented is that we have to deal with the question of deciding how large a reprint edition should be published. The best solution of this problem, as far as I can judge, would be for the publishing bureaus to indicate the field to be covered by their various activities, so as to furnish this office some basis for making orders for reprints.

The Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce initiated a plan along these lines in conjunction with the Division of Publications of the Department of Commerce, to the effect that when a requisition is drawn we are notified of the advertising the publication will probably receive by the activities of the publishing bureau. This information is most helpful, and tends to give better service to the public because it eliminates delay in printing additional copies where an insufficient number has been ordered, and prevents the waste in printing and material of an edition in excess of the demand.

LIBRARIES.

The distribution of publications to libraries is, in my judgment, one of the important functions of the office, and every effort possible should be made to meet their demands. The assorting of the accumulations of the returns from libraries and departments affords an opportunity for completing sets for libraries, which, if left incomplete, would be of little value, and besides, many important volumes are made available for sale.

The rapidly increasing demand for Government publications by the libraries, and especially the school and college libraries, testifies to the growing interest in the information contained therein.

Two thousand three hundred and forty-eight publications were furnished to each of the regular designated depository libraries during the year, these libraries belonging to the class which receive one copy of all publications of a public character. The usual distribution was made to the Geological Survey and Official Gazette libraries.

The regular depositories rightfully complain of the delay in receiving the Congressional documents and reports which are of sufficient size to bind by themselves. Under the present method of distribution they are withheld until the preparation of the Schedule of Volumes, which, of course, can not be undertaken until after the close of a session. The only remedy for this delay would be to discontinue the series volume number on the binder's title and use only the title in accordance with the subject matter and the Congress and document or report number. It is my intention to make a recommendation to you later along this line, so that such a change might be effected, beginning with the documents of the Sixty-fifth Congress.

Below is a comparative statement of library distribution for the fiscal years 1916 and 1917:

Distributed to 484 designated depositories in 1916.....	1, 627, 405
Distributed to 484 designated depositories in 1917.....	1, 568, 041
Distributed to 725 geological depositories in 1916.....	31, 809
Distributed to 725 geological depositories in 1917.....	18, 092
Distributed to 2,304 Official Gazette depositories in 1916.....	185, 322
Distributed to 2,280 Official Gazette depositories in 1917.....	171, 203
Distributed to various nondepository libraries in 1916.....	43, 114
Distributed to various nondepository libraries in 1917.....	28, 520

The designated depository libraries receive one copy of every publication printed. The geological depository libraries receive only special publications issued by the Geological Survey. The Official Gazette depository libraries receive the weekly Gazettes and Indexes. The nondepository libraries are entitled to receive on application any surplus copies in stock for free distribution.

CATALOGUES, INDEXES, ETC.

The following publications have been compiled and issued during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1917: Fifteenth Preliminary Schedule of Volumes, Reports and Documents of the Sixty-fourth Congress, First Session, December 6, 1915-September 8, 1916; Document Index, No. 23, Sixty-fourth Congress, First Session, December 6, 1915-September 8, 1916; Sixteenth Preliminary Schedule of Volumes, Reports and Documents of the Sixty-fourth Congress, Second Session, December 4, 1916-March 4, 1917; Monthly Catalogue and Index, July, 1916-June, 1917.

Document Index, No. 24, ~~Sixty-fourth~~ Congress, Second Session, December 4, 1916–March 4, 1917, is in press. Work on the Document Catalogue, ~~Sixty-third~~ Congress, 1913–1915, is progressing, but the catalogue will not go to press before fall, owing to the fact that members of the cataloguing force have had to assist with the work in other sections of the office.

Forty-four price lists of United States Government publications on various subjects for sale by this office have been compiled, totaling 256,500 copies, and 292,570 copies have been distributed as compared with 283,503 copies distributed during the fiscal year 1916.

DISTRIBUTION OF DEPARTMENTAL PUBLICATIONS.

The free distribution by the departments during the past year totaled 36,941,013 publications, which was an increase of 48,938 books over the fiscal year 1916.

The mailing of this enormous quantity of publications taxed the force of the office to its fullest limits, and had it not been for the assistance of the Efficiency Bureau it would have been impossible to accomplish the work.

The publishing activities of a number of the departments were greatly increased on account of the war, but no provision for an additional force was made for this office to handle the increase.

It is absolutely impossible to prevent congestion in the mailing operations, as the influx of work is so great at times as to cause an unavoidable delay. The centralization of the distribution is not responsible for this condition, as similar trouble would be experienced by the departments if they handled their own publications.

ACCUMULATION OF PUBLICATIONS.

It seems an endless task to relieve the libraries in the country of their excess Government publications, and notwithstanding the fact that thousands of books have been returned in the last few years, hardly a day passes without receiving requests from them to be relieved of surplus and duplicate copies of publications. The libraries are not the only sources of supply, as thousands of discarded publications are received during the year from the various departments.

The Joint Committee on Printing granted permission to condemn and dispose of as waste paper 585,059 publications which were made up entirely of obsolete issues that had been superseded by later and corrected editions, and the stock of many weekly and monthly periodicals that were no longer of any value.

In addition, an inventory of the accumulation of excess publications was submitted to the Joint Committee on Printing in January, 1917, which listed 81,232 publications, and the usual course was followed in allowing the Members of Congress to make selections. Only about a third of the Members availed themselves of the privilege. The work of distribution of the publications selected has been commenced and is continuing, and when finished the balance will be condemned and sold as waste paper. It is evident that the members do not understand the character of these books that are inventoried from time to time, as many of the publications selected are returned by them.

STORAGE SPACE.

The floor space of this office does not meet the requirements, and additional room is badly needed for storage, clerical force, and the Library, as at present considerable extra labor is necessary in moving and handling the publications in an effort to accommodate new stock received daily.

The departments will have to realize that the storing facilities at the Government Printing Office are not unlimited, and that some means must be found for reducing the stock on hand. The records show that at the close of the fiscal year 1917 the stock of the departments had increased 1,187,133 publications since the beginning of the fiscal year.

MAILING SECTION.

The Mailing Section, to which is assigned the care and preparation of all stenciled mailing lists, has had its duties made doubly hard by the deterioration of the machinery and by not being fully equipped with up-to-date machines and full facilities for handling the work. The condition of the mailing equipment was brought to your attention in my last report, and I am hopeful that your recent action in allowing the replacement of some of the old machinery with new machinery, the gradual substitution of the typewriter stencil-cutting system for the old pin-point stencil system, will much improve the conditions and will enable the office to better meet the demands for mailing.

In my last report I stated that the automatic mailing machine was not satisfactory, and since that time it has gone out of commission entirely; and accordingly the work had to be transferred to an addressing machine and the publications wrapped by hand.

There are now maintained 1,131 different mailing lists, containing 973,277 names, and during the year 36,000,000 impressions from the stencils were made on wrappers and envelopes, lists, and cards.

The records show that the maintenance of these lists required the making of 311,639 additions and 137,081 drops and 20,626 changes. This shows an increase over last year of 123,277 names on the mailing list.

CONDITIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

It would seem from a recital of the various problems entailed in the increased work that the output would naturally run behind, but this has been obviated by the cutting out of all superfluous work and the placing on a sound business basis of all matters of routine, especially the handling of the mail, which has been reduced to a point where the inquiries are answered concisely and correctly with the least possible waste of labor, stationery, and other material.

The distribution of publications offers a large field for study, and its successful accomplishment is impossible without the close cooperation of all interested parties.

The duties of the office could be more efficiently handled and many difficulties solved through the creation of a committee composed of the heads of the Publication Divisions of the various departments and establishments of the Government and the Superintendent of Documents. Such a coordination of effort would be most productive in improving methods and the standardization of all operations.

In this report I have mentioned the difficulties experienced in ascertaining the number of copies to be printed for sale and the finding of adequate storage space for thousands of publications which we believe to be in excess of the normal demand, and such a committee as suggested above could consider these questions and similar ones which are continually arising.

It is my intention to again ask in my estimate for 1918 for the additional clerks which were not allowed in the last fiscal estimates and also recommend a few promotions in the lower grades.

The experience of the past fiscal year shows that it is very difficult to fill vacancies that are continually occurring by reason of resignations and transfers, and when the vacancies have been filled, necessarily they are filled with inexperienced clerks; therefore the office is the loser, as new and inexperienced clerks can not do the work of experienced and efficient clerks and meet the demands on the office. During the fiscal year 1917 we turned into the Treasury about $3,300 of the appropriation for salaries, on account of the lapse of time between dates of resignations and transfers and dates of filling the vacancies. This amount would pay four clerks at $800 a year.

I desire to thank the employees of the office for their untiring efforts and hearty cooperation in promoting the best interests of the office.

Respectfully submitted.

TWENTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1918.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE,
OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS,
Washington, October 19, 1918.

SIR: In compliance with the provisions of section 61 of the general printing act approved January 12, 1895, I have the honor to submit the Twenty-fourth Annual Report of the Superintendent of Documents, being for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918.

The work of the Documents Office for the year, involving a distribution for departments of 44,668,164 publications; the sale of 7,853,886 copies, for which $250,362.35 was received; the handling of 297,334 letters calling for information on all matters pertaining to United States Government publications; the compilation of official catalogues and price lists; and the maintaining of 1,150 mailing lists containing about 1,000,000 names was accompanied with many difficulties and hardships through the loss of a number of our experienced employees.

The clerk problem is daily becoming more serious, owing to the low salaries paid. The Civil Service Commission is unable to supply clerks and cataloguers at the salaries we have to offer, and although permission has been granted to employ from the outside we have been unsuccessful in filling vacancies.

It is earnestly hoped that Congress will remedy the present condition in the next appropriation bill so as to permit us to offer salary inducements of a nature sufficiently inviting to retain those experienced in our work, and to cause acceptance of positions in this office in the face of the salary allurements offered by other, and especially the new, departments.

The research and information features of this office are being used more extensively each year, and countless inquiries by letter, telephone, telegraph, and by personal inquiry have been answered. The body of inquirers embraces all classes of our people—Members of Congress, departments, Army and Navy officers, agriculturists, scientific men of all classes; and above all, the bulk of the inquiries has come from individuals in the ranks of the plain people, who, as a body and individually, are coming more and more to recognize the usefulness of this office as a distributing point for Government publications.

LIBRARIES.

The demand from libraries for relief from the overburdened condition of their shelves with excess Government publications continues to grow. Some remedy must soon be found to relieve the libraries of their present burdens, and to allow all libraries which meet certain requirements to obtain only those Government publications for which they actually have need.

There is a gradual decrease in the number of designated depositories which under the law are entitled to receive one copy of everything published for general distribution. This no doubt can be attributed to lack of shelf room to accommodate the publications which amounted to 2,447 copies during the past year for each library. The underlying motive which prompted Congress to provide for the establishment of one library in each Congressional district was theoretically good; but time has proved that in a great many districts libraries can not be found that are in a position to care for the enormous quantity of publications received under such designation.

Requests from nondepository libraries of the country have been freely supplied, but unfortunately this office receives for general library distribution a stock of only a small percentage of publications at the time they are printed. It is hoped that some time one agency will be established that will be in a position to take care of the demands from the libraries.

Below is a statement of library distribution for the fiscal year 1918:

Distributed to 492 designated depositories in 1918.....	1, 522, 348
Distributed to 725 geological depositories in 1918.....	14, 450
Distributed to 1,550 Official Gazette depositories in 1918.....	140, 588
Distributed to various nondepository libraries in 1918.....	14, 409

CATALOGUES, INDEXES, ETC.

The following publications have been compiled and issued during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918: Document Index, No. 24, Sixty-fourth Congress, Second Session, December 4, 1916-March 4, 1917; Seventeenth Preliminary Schedule of Volumes, Reports and Documents of the Sixty-fifth Congress, First Session, April 2-October 6, 1917, and the Special Session of the Senate, March 5-16, 1917; Document Index, No. 25, Sixty-fifth Congress, First Session, April 2-October 6, 1917, and the Special Session of the Senate, March 5-16, 1917; Monthly Catalogue, July, 1917-June, 1918.

The Document Catalogue, Sixty-third Congress, 1913-1915, is in press.

Twenty-nine price lists of United States Government publications on various subjects for sale by this office have been compiled, totaling 151,000 copies, and 155,267 copies have been distributed.

DISTRIBUTION OF DEPARTMENTAL PUBLICATIONS.

During the past year there were received for consignment stock of the departments 52,948,516 publications, and the records show a distribution of 44,668,164, which was an increase of 7,727,151 copies over that of the previous year. This represents the largest number of publications handled since the work was placed under your supervision, and any advocates of a return to the old plan, whereby each department performed its own mailing operations, may well stop and consider the additional cost that would have been involved in hauling the publications to their respective departments and then back to the post office, whereas now direct communication is had with the post office by means of a conveyor, which deposits the publications in the mails without cost for hauling, and with the expenditure of the minimum amount of labor.

It is my intention to recommend in the estimates for the coming year a lump-sum appropriation for all labor necessary in making the distribution of Government publications, so as to provide for over-time work, which is absolutely necessary to prevent congestion and delay that can not be avoided in a plant where the manufacturing operations continue for 24 hours and those for distribution for only 8 hours. Notwithstanding the increase in this branch of our work, it has been performed with very few complaints from the issuing offices, and in some cases the delay was unavoidable on account of shortage in the envelope stock.

Comparative statement showing number of departmental publications received and distributed during the fiscal years 1913 to 1918, inclusive.

Received.....	34,866,026	40,467,920	37,120,915	36,816,842	38,128,146	52,948,516
Distributed.....	25,292,703	39,136,659	34,714,196	36,892,075	36,941,013	44,668,164

ACCUMULATION OF PUBLICATIONS.

The best evidence of the Government's faulty distribution methods is disclosed by the return of 277,624 publications from libraries and departments during the year, and this number would easily have been doubled if we had been in a position to handle them. It must be recognized that considerable labor is required to assort and list these returned publications, and of the number above mentioned 233,836 were condemned and sold as waste paper for the reason that they were either obsolete or in excess of any possible demand.

The letter which you addressed to the departments in the beginning of the year, urging a careful consideration of their stock of publications for the purpose of disposing of excess and obsolete copies found on hand, met with favorable action on the part of most of the departments, with the result that relief was obtained from our congested storage conditions.

Notwithstanding your efforts to reduce the stock of publications held for departments, the books show a balance on hand to the credit of the various departments at the close of the fiscal year of 22,703,565, which is an increase of over 8,000,000 from the previous year, and the fact that we have been able to accommodate them is due to the publications being of the small pamphlet variety.

MAILING SECTION.

There is no circulating department of any publishing house in the country which compares with that of the United States Government, with 1,150 different mailing lists totaling over 1,000,000 names.

Two of our lists, namely, the Official Bulletin with 115,000 addresses and the Congressional Record with about 30,000 names, are run daily, and such constant use of the stencil is a very good test as to its durability. We believe the new equipment you authorized to be installed will meet the requirements.

The inability of the Civil Service Commission to supply typists has delayed the transferring from the old system to the new stencils, but the available force has made considerable progress.

The mailing operations for the year called for over 80,000,000 impressions to be made from the stencils on wrappers, envelopes, and cards, and the maintenance of the list required the addition of 328,500 names and the dropping of 208,829 names.

CONDITIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

Notwithstanding the conditions imposed by the war (an important feature of which has been inability to replace by trained help the clerks called into the service and otherwise leaving), the large volume of business has been kept up to date by the persistent hard work of those remaining. Every condition points to the conclusion that when the war is over and men resume their accustomed occupations, the business will advance again by leaps and bounds; and as now constituted the expansion would tax the resources of the office, both clerical and mechanical. It seems advisable, in the face of our past lessons on "preparedness," to make ready for meeting the emergencies now by training a competent force and securing sufficient equipment. To the clerks and helpers who have labored with me to keep up the work and to uphold the prestige of the office, I wish to offer my heartiest commendations.

Respectfully submitted.
